ROOSEVELT'S GILT EDGED LEAD

Meyer Lissner Says G. O. P.
State Committee Favors
Teddy Ten to One

WALL STREET IS SADLY
HAZY AS TO THE OUTLOOK

Says Roosevelt's Radicalism is Too Much for East But Wins the West

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The assertion that the California Central Republican committee favors Theodore Roosevelt's nomination by ten to one, is contained in a message from Meyer Lissner of Los Angeles, to Medell McCormick, the Chicago progressive. The message further reads:
"Leading state progressives as well as conservative Republicans are coming out strong for Roosevelt. I predict the Roosevelt delegation to outnumber two to one any other delegation to the national convention. I regret the indisposition of Senator La Follette but practically all his most ardent admirers recognize his unavailability and will concentrate on Roosevelt."

WALL STREET UNCERTAIN AS TO PRESIDENTIAL SITUATION
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Financial America, Wall Street's organ, says:
"Speculative interests are not agreed as to whether Col. Roosevelt's Columbus speech has cleared the political situation. On one hand the idea is advanced that the speech was so extremely radical that it has completely eliminated him as a possible Republican nominee. On the other hand, it is claimed that no matter what may be maintained in the East by representatives of great corporations, he has greatly strengthened himself in the eyes of the radicals and progressives and that consequently the contest between him and Taft will be more keen."

"If Roosevelt is practically out of the race on account of his radicalism it is claimed that Taft will get the nomination without difficulty.
Even granting this his nomination may not spell election. From a Wall Street point of view, the situation is still mixed, particularly as great uncertainty exists as to the identity of the probable Democratic nominee."

CALIFORNIA CAMPAIGN
FOR ROOSEVELT IS OPENED
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The Roosevelt campaign in California was formally opened when the Lincoln-Roosevelt Leaguers met today at the St. Francis Hotel and outlined the preliminary work. Roosevelt headquarters will be established in the Bancroft building.

DEMOCRATS FEAR TEDDY—
MAY POSTPONE CONVENTION
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Due to the belief that Theodore Roosevelt is to be the Republican nominee for the presidency, a movement is under way here today to postpone the Democratic national convention for three weeks to give the party opportunity to adjust itself to the conditions of the Colonel's candidacy would cause. It is reported that the possible naming of Roosevelt may have vital effect upon the action of the Baltimore convention.

HOUSER COMPLAINS THAT LA
FOLLETTE IS DOUBLE-CROSSED PORTLAND, Feb. 28.—Making the direct charge that Roosevelt double-crossed La Follette, and that La Follette only entered the race at Roosevelt's "earnest solicitation," Walter Houser, La Follette's campaign manager, today issued a statement predicting that La Follette will carry Oregon and California, despite the "doping" of Roosevelt and Johnson.
Houser said:
"If the progressive vote of Oregon and California is split and Taft is nominated, the progressives may blame Roosevelt. Despite the defection of Governor Johnson, we expect to carry California by a large majority, and are determined to make a big fight."

BELIEVED TAXI
ROBBERS OF NEW YORK ARE CAUGHT
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Charged with highway robbery and assault to kill, Edward Kinsman, Jesse Abruzzi and Gene Montana, alleged to be the leading taxi-robbers who plucked New York into a reign of terror by their sensational hold-ups in the crowded sections of the city, are under arrest here today. They were arraigned in the Tombs police court, and denied bail.

Modjeski Is Defendant In Suit On Note

Felix Modjeski, son of Madame Modjeska, is one of the defendants in a suit brought here for judgment on a note of $312-13. The plaintiff is Samuel T.
Chase and the defendants are Etienne de Skymanski and Modjeski, and the suit is on a note
given by Etienne de Skymanski in Chicago on May 2, 1910. Modjeski signed the note as guaranteeing its payment.
The complaint states that Modjeski is a resident of or may be found at Bay Island.
Since the death of Madame Modjeska, the famous trage-dienne, at Bay Island, the residence has been occupied at times by Felix Modjeski or members of his family. Modjeski is one of the best known civil engineers of Chicago.

MASKED ROBBER SECURES $4,500

SAN JOSE, Feb. 28.—An unmask-

J. A. Costa on North Market street, held up, gagged and bound Costa to safe, then escaped in a waiting automobile toward San Francisco.

Costa was found by Henry Ballar-

Although the police pursued the rob-

COURT DECIDES ANNULMENT INVALID

Mrs. Minnie Taylor Wins Important Decision in Oregon
Taylor Case

WOMAN IS AHEAD IN NORTHERN CASE

Principal Fight Will be Over $2500 Maintenance Suit
In California

Mrs. Minnie Taylor, whose residence is at the southwest corner of North Main and Seventeenth streets, won an important decision in the supreme court of Oregon yesterday, against her millionaire husband, Charles D. Taylor. The decision sustained a lower court in declaring void the annulment of marriage granted Taylor secretly by the supreme court at Oregon City.
The legal fight between Taylor,
now a resident of British Columbia, and his wife is now being waged in two states, Oregon and California.
The suit begun in Santa Ana for $2500 a month maintenance and the making void of the deeds of $50,000 worth of property here to Russell T.
Joy, and by Joy to Edith W. Joy, his daughter, was transferred to the federal court in Los Angeles, and the court there now has under advisement a motion to send the case back to Santa Ana.

The action of the Oregon supreme court yesterday was to defeat Taylor's annulment. That decree was given on Sept. 19, 1910. Mrs. Taylor knew nothing of this case until it appeared in a statement by Taylor's attorneys in the action here at the time it was transferred to the federal court. Through her attorneys, who are Williams & Ruten of Santa Ana, Mrs. Taylor presented evidence to the Oregon judge showing that she had never been served with any notice of the pendency of the action for annulment. This decision is now upheld, and the case can go to trial on its merits, and Mrs. Taylor will make a hard fight against Taylor's attempt to get the marriage ties severed in that manner.

The principal fight will probably be in this state, for it is in the suit here that the question of $2500 per month maintenance will be pushed as rapidly as possible by Mrs. Taylor's lawyers.

EUGENE SCHMITZ SURE TO BE TRIED

If Let Off at Present Trial Will Face Another Indictment
Before Lawlor

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The complications in the bribery trial of Eugene Schmitz caused by Abe Ruef's refusal to testify unless personal indictments are dropped, were unchanged when the case was called today. Judge Lawlor announced that if he acts favorably on District Attorney Fickert's motion to submit the Schmitz case without further evidence that he will bring Schmitz to trial on another indictment.
No action was taken by Superior Judge Dunne on Fickert's motion that the Ruef indictments be quashed.

crete triumph.

ASKING PERMIT FOR A SEWER INTO SEA

Southern California Sugar Co.
Would Build Pipeline Beyond Breakers

PLAN IS NOW FILED MAP SHOWING THE

Factory Outfall Will Follow the River Channel and Then
Cross Sandspit

The engineer's office of the War Department has given notice that the Southern California Sugar Co.
has applied for a permit to lay two 16-inch iron pipelines across a slough and into the ocean 500 feet.
The sugar company's project is for the erection of a sewer line to dump its sewage in the ocean.
Several weeks ago the sugar company secured a permit and right-of-way from the Newbert Protection District for laying the pipeline along the west edge of the river right-of-way. Engineer Finley's plan is to have the pipeline laid along this river bank right-of-way to a point near where the Santa Ana river makes the turn at the Sandspit between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach. At that point the pipeline will continue across the slough, across the sandspit and out into the ocean 500 feet.

The United States engineer has issued the following notice:
"United States Engineer Office, 723
Central Building, Los Angeles, Cal.
February 27, 1912.
"To whom It May Concern:
"Notice is hereby given that the Southern California Sugar Co. has made application for permission to lay two 16-inch cast-iron pipe lines across the bottom of a slough, and extending in the ocean a distance of 500 feet beyond low tide line along a line just easterly of the easterly boundary of the Rancho Los Bolsas, Orange county, Cal.
"A map showing the location of the proposed work will be on exhibition in this office until 10 a. m., March 12, 1912.
"Interested parties are invited to inspect this map and submit in writing, in duplicate, any objections, based on navigation interests, which they may have to the proposed work."

UNITED STATES STEEL IS GENUINE OCTOPUS

Has Grip on 80 Percent of Country's Steel
Trade---Ruins Competition--- Profits
In Nine Years More Than Billion

Steel from the inside:
Stanley committee experts reports that: United States Steel Corporation operates in restraint of trade and controls 80 per cent of the country's steel trade. It manipulates through the Gary dinners.
Eliminates competition through raw material and interlocking control of companies.
J. P. Morgan & Co., were given $70,000,000 in profits for promoting the trust.
The first nine years of its existence the trust made aggregate profits of more than a billion dollars.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—That the social functions known as "Gary dinners" control absolutely the prices in the steel industry and that the United States steel corporation is operated in restraint of trade through this price-control and its domination of raw material, was the conclusion reported to the Stanley house steel investigating committee today by Farrington J. MacKee, the committee's accountant. MacKee's report was the result of a detailed examination of the books of the steel trust, made while the records were under subpoena by the committee. In several particulars the report contradicted testimony given by officials of the trust before the committee. The Gary dinners, the report says, operate to maintain prices and exclude competition.
"The arrangement is designed and intended so to operate, it continues, and it does so operate, as to steel prices, although it is claimed that the so-called independent companies can cut prices without fear of penalty except the dishonor of declaring in favor of a named price and then selling at some other price."

"It can be no justification of the operation of the participants of the Gary dinners that no penalty attaches to a violation of the declarations mutually exchanged," the report commented, "because perforce, the antitrust act would prevent the enforcement of any penalty for reducing prices or exceeding one share of the business."

The report drew the conclusion that the Gary dinner agreements were in reality just as binding on steel manufacturers as the pool agreements of the old days, which were legislated against in the Sherman act.
A fabulous profit was made out of the formation of the Steel Trust by J. P. Morgan & Co., which framed the combination, the report says, the Steel Trust took show. A total of $69,300,000 was paid the Morgan concern for financing the syndicate that organized the trust.
Of this $62,500,000 was a promoter's profit, while the remaining $6,800,000 was the profit on a board conversion scheme. In the first nine years of its existence the corporation earned net, the report says, $1,929,685,389, instead of $980,000,311, as is set forth in the reports of the corporation officials.

This amounts to a net profit of $13
a ton on finished steel products.
Eighty per cent of the steel producing properties of the country are dominated by the corporation, the report says, although E. H. Gary and H. C.

MEXICAN SITUATION PERILOUS SAYS TAFT—LEGATIONS JOIN FOR DEFENSE IN MEXICO CITY

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 28.—Juan Sanchez Azcona, private secretary to the President, in an exclusive interview with a reporter of the Daily Mexican, yesterday said:
"I venture to say that if the United States intervenes in Mexico's affairs, that country will have taken one of the most momentous steps in its history. Maderism, Zapatism, Vasquism, and every 'ism' would be forgotten in joining forces to repel the interloper, no matter what his intentions or what grounds he may have for intervening."

"Every American citizen in the republic of Mexico will be in danger;
yes, I might as well say it, every American in Mexico would probably be slaughtered at first news that the American flag has crossed the border, and it is quite reasonable to believe that certain fine distinctions will be made in the massacre."
"Agitators who will harangue crowds will probably indicate to the frenzied mob the difference between Americans and other foreigners, and while in a few cases others might suffer, in the main only the Americans would pay the penalty that outraged Mexican ideals would deem commensurate with the crime."

MEXICAN REBELS CROSS BORDER AND RAID CATTLE RANCH

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 28.—Mexican rebels today crossed the international border and raided the Wilson cattle ranch near Alpine, stealing cattle and battling with a pursuing American posse. Four Mexicans were killed and Charles Tuttle, an American, was wounded. The remainder of the invaders escaped. Excitement along the border is intense. Cowmen are organizing to protect their property.
Heavily armed posses are patrolling the border, and will resist further invasion.
A posse of cowboys has arrived from the Nelson Morris ranch, where a battle occurred yesterday. Manager Pascual Brown was wounded during the fight, and two friendly
Mexican employees were killed.

LEGATIONS JOIN FOR DEFENSE OF FOREIGNERS IN CAPITAL MEXICO CITY, Feb. 28.—Follow- ing the issuance of a second state- ment by President Madero's secre- tary Sanchez Azcona, declaring that an American massacre is probable if American troops cross the border, representatives of various legations conferred and have planned to unite in order to defend foreigners in the event of a crisis. CHARGES STATE WITH INDUSTRIAL SLAVERY

Atty. Gen. Wickersham Decides to Prosecute "Higher-ups" in Lawrence Riots

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Thoroughly angered by the Senate's blocking of his demand for a speedy inquiry into Lawrence, Mass., strike conditions, Senator Poindexter of Washington today prepared the following for the United Press.

(By Miles Poindexter.)
Senators Lodge, Gallinger and Smoot are fighting shoulder to shoulder with the Democratic senators, Overman, Bailey and Williams to obstruct and delay a simple request for facts. Are they afraid of the trusts? Is the constitution a dead letter when it comes to a bill of rights and a supposed personal liberty guarantee? Are no human rights contemplated by the constitution when they compete with dollar rights? I have asked for an inquiry.
It has been blocked by every variety of pretext and other matters have been interposed with the obvious intent to delay, obstruct, confuse and conceal the facts.

It is true that Massachusetts has substituted industrial for chattel slavery, and in smug hypocrisy, fears the facts will be brought to the world's attention.

ATTY. GEN. TO PROSECUTE THE RIOT "HIGHER UPS"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—It was learned today that Attorney General Wickersham has determined to prosecute the "higher ups" causing the Lawrence riots. He conferred with Solicitor General Lehmann and Assistant Attorney General Harr as to prosecutions based on possible violations of the Sherman law and the statute preventing the deprivation of constitutional liberty.

SUMMARY ACTION PROMISED IF THE LAW IS VIOLATED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Denouncing the Lawrence, Mass., authorities for their refusal to permit children of strikers to leave the city, Attorney General Wickersham in a special statement to the United Press, said:
"It was a stupid blunder and overstepping of authority I have ordered the federal district attorney of Massachusetts to investigate."
The attorney general promised summary government action if the investigation shows that the federal laws have been violated.

GOV. FOSS REFUSES TO TAKE MILITIA FROM MILL DISTRICT

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 28.—Governor Foss has refused to accede to the demands of the industrial workers to remove the militia from the mill district.

Reports from Washington to the effect that the Secretary of War may order troops here to protect water supplies are declared to be absolutely unfounded. The valley is in its usual peaceful state, and its citizens are at a loss to understand the cause of the official reports sent to Washington that have been brought ment.

CAMPA FORCES START TONIGHT FOR CHIHUAHUA

start tonight. They were reinforced during the day by scores of discon-tents arriving from surroundings.
The men are well armed, and expect no resistance en route. Campa is

"HOW TO TRAIN OUR CHILDREN" IS THEME OF VALUABLE PAPER

Mrs. Lillian Whitney [Outlines Methods
Of Character Building That Should Exist In Every True Home

Mrs. Lillian Whitney read the following valuable paper before a Woman's Christian Temperance Union meeting held on Tuesday, Feb. 27, at the home of Mrs. F. H. McElree, 606 Ross street. The paper is couched in impressive and beautiful language and will appeal to every parent truly interested in the "character building" of the child:

How shall we train our children—"That our sons may be grown-up in their youth; that our daughters may be as corner stones polished after the similitude of a palace." (Psalm 144).

The first condition is to become as a child. This means, not assumed childishness, not condescending baby-talk that the child immediately sees through and deeply abhors. It means to be entirely and simply taken up with the child, as the child is himself absorbed by his own life. It means to treat him with the same consideration, the same kind confidence one shows to an adult friend. It means, not to influence the child to be what we ourselves desire him to become, but to be influenced by the impression of what the child himself is.

We fail to see that during the whole life the need of peace is never greater than in the years of childhood, an inner peace under all external unrest. He wants to enter into relations with his own infinite world, to conquer it, to make it the object of his dreams. He experiences corrections, interferences the whole life-long day. He is constantly requested to leave something alone, or to do something different, or want something different from what he does, or finds or wants. He is continually switched off in another direction from that towards which his own character is leading him. All of this is caused by our tenderness, vigilance and zeal in directing, helping and advising the child to become a model of perfection.

Children have a right to be naughty just as adults have, and not only to be naughty but to be naughty in peace. To be left to the dangers and joys of naughtiness. To call forth from this naughtiness the complementary virtue, is to overcome evil with good. Otherwise we overcome natural strength by weak means and obtain artificial virtues, hypocrisies which will not stand the test which life imposes. It is far easier to say what one shall not do than what one must do to change self into strength of character, slowness into prudence, the desire to please into amiability, restlessness into personal initiative.

We want our children finished at once. We are in too great haste to make them perfect and we force upon them an unnatural degree of self-mastery. The real art of training consists in ignoring the faults of children nine times out of ten—in avoiding immediate interference and devoting one's whole vigilance to control of the environment in which they are growing up—to watch the development which is allowed to go on by itself in an environment transforming to right inclinations.

Only by keeping ourselves in constant process of growth under the influence of the best things in our own age do we become companions half good enough to be the associates of the children. To bring up a child means to lift our eyes upward to true ideals and set our feet in the path of holy living if we are never to meet the cold look of the child that tells us better than words that we are insufficient and unreliable.

We must realize the truth that the ways of injuring a child are infinite, while the ways of being useful to him are few. Have you not seen your own little one experimenting with you and seeing through your motives with marvelous shrewdness making its own valuation of truth and justice? The slightest mistrust, the smallest unkindness, the least injustice or contemptuous ridicule leaves lasting wounds in the finely strung soul of a child.

Why do Christian people continue to plunder one another and call it exchange; to murder one another in battle and call it nationalism; to oppress and call it statesmanship? Because the impulses supposed to have been rooted out by discipline in the child have not been transformed but only repressed. This is the reason why.

Repressed passions are but beasts of prey imprisoned in cages.

The judicious parent will by regularly ordered experience teach the children their place in the great, orderly system of existence. We talk about personality, individuality, but we are filled with doubts if our children are not just like other children, possessing all the ready-made virtues required by school and society standards.

Obedience, absolute obedience, must be taught at an early age, so that it becomes habitual. Then a look, a word, an intonation is enough. Don't argue with a little child, but act consistently and immediately—so certain habits will become impressed in the flesh and blood.

Forcing a child to express regret by saying he is sorry, begging pardon and the like, is excellent training for hypocrisy.

Spontaneous penitence is full of significance. It is a deeply felt desire for pardon. But an artificial emotion is always and everywhere worthless.

"Would I consent to be treated as I treat these children?" is a very good question to ask one's self. If we only remembered that a child suffers doubly as much as an adult we would learn physical and psychological tenderness, without which child life is a constant torment.

If statistics were prepared of ruined sons, those who have been flogged would be more numerous than those who had been pampered. "Whipping a naughty child," says Comenius, "is like striking a badly tuned instrument with the fist instead of using eyes and hands to put it into tune." The thought of a blow should be abandoned as a possible means of discipline when a child has reached the third year of school. It makes the obstinate more obstinate, the hard, harder.

The child who never hears lying at home, who does not see exaggerated weight placed on small, merely external things, who is not made cowardly by fear, who hears conscious lies spoken of with contempt, will get out of the habit of lying simply by psychological means. First he will find that lying causes astonishment, and repetition of it scorn, and lack of it, confidence.

Our whole aim should be to direct a child to his own special gifts and strengthen him in them. When the rod is thrown away and children are no longer boxed on the ears, but instead are given magnifying glasses and photographic cameras to increase their capacity for life and for loving it, instead of learning to destroy it, real education in humanity will begin. The most effective admonitions are short and infrequent ones. The most skillful way is to be silent for the moment, and then so reprove the fault that the child is brought to correct himself or make himself the object of blame.

The strongest factor in the development of a human being is the settled, quiet order of home, its peace and its duty. Open-heartedness, industry, straight-forwardness at home develop goodness, desire to work and simplicity in the child. The pure, warm, clear atmosphere in which father, mother and children live together in freedom and confidence, where none is isolated from the interests of the others, but each possesses full freedom for his own personal interest, where none infringes on the rights of others, where all are willing to help one another when necessary.

We need new homes, new schools, new marriages, new social relations for our children, where they will come to understand life; where they will have aspirations and hopes; will believe, will pray. The new home must become a home for the soul as well as the body—a home where there are real occupations, tasks to be done conscientiously, habits of work arranged for week days and holidays. Instead of a mother about to help him get ready for school and to help him remember things, the boy should have time before school every day to arrange his room and brush his clothes, and there should be no effort to make him remember what is connected with the school. The home and school should combine together systematically to let the child suffer for the results of his own negligence.

Just the reverse of this system rules today. Mothers learn their children's lessons, invent plays for them, read their story-books to them, arrange their rooms after them, put in order the things they have left in confusion, and in this and other ways, by protective indulgence and attention, their natural desire for work, their endurance, their gifts of invention and imagination, qualities belonging distinctly to the child, become weak and passive.

In these homes young people are growing up who are accustomed to receive services without performing any on their part. They are trained to be always receptive without giving something in return. These people are surprised at a youthful generation selfish and unrestrained, crudely unresponsive.

We should throw the thermometer and hot water bag out of the window and begin a sensible course of toughening—teach a child to know and bear natural pain, and repress egotistic demands when they interfere with the work or rest of others. We must in some ways do a thousand times more and in others a hundred thousand times less.

To be born of love is the child's birthright. God is love, and the world he has created for his children is so perfect an expression of loveliness that the best talented artist who has ever lived has failed to express the fullness of it. A beginning should be made at the tenderest age to establish a life-long love of nature, and let him also make a choice library, beginning with the nursery rhymes so that he will have at different periods of his life books suitable for each age, not foolish books, but so-called classics.

Teach the boy and girl to regard health and beauty as high ethical characteristics, and that what is hurtful to health and beauty is a hateful act. If our children see us doing readily an unpleasant duty which they honestly recognize as unpleasant. If they see us endure trouble or unexpected difficulties easily, they will be in honor bound to do the like. Just as children, without many words, learn to practice good deeds practiced about them; learn to enjoy the beauties of nature and art when they see adults enjoy them, so by living more beautifully, more nobly, more temperately we speak best to our children. They are more receptive to impression of this kind than to those made by force of restraint. Let us try to leave them in peace; interfere directly as seldom as possible; keep away all crude and impure impressions, but give all care and energy to see that personality, life itself, living in its simplicity and in its nakedness shall be means of training.

Let us respect the joys of a child, his tastes, work, time, just as we would those of an adult. Let us live the morality we teach our children. Family life would have an intelligent character if each member lived

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help,
Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer."

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die. At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm."

There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.

fully and entirely his own life and allowed others to do the same.

None should tyrannize over nor suffer tyranny from the others. Parents who give their home this character can justly demand that children shall accommodate themselves to the habits of the household as long as they live in it. Children on their part can ask that their own life of thought and feeling shall be left in peace at home, or that they be treated with consideration. When parents fail in these conditions, they themselves are the sufferers.

It is very easy to keep a son from expressing his raw views, very easy to tear a daughter from her book, very easy by a cross word or look to repress some deep emotion or desire—but in this restraint is developed the germ of unrest, the desire to leave home.

How infinitely valuable, say their children would I have found a mother who could have kept quiet—who would have been patient with me, who would have given me rest—keeping the outer world at a distance from me with kindly, soothing hands—a mother on whose shoulder I could lay my head and dream the dreams of youth.

Material selfishness alone can perform the task of protecting the growing boy or girl with wisdom and kindness, allowing others to grow according to the law of individual inclination. The unselfish mother will gladly give the best of her life and energy, her powers of soul and being to her growing children and then open all the doors to them in the broad world bidding them choose their own paths.

"I made them lay their hands in mine and swear to reverence—their conscience as their king, To break the heathen and uphold the Christ, To ride abroad redressing human wrongs; To speak no slander, no nor listen to it, To honor his own word as if his

But teach high thoughts and amiable words,
And courtliness, and the desire of fame,
And love of truth, and all that makes a man."

JUST TRY A TEN CENT BOX OF CASCARETS

Insures You for Months Against a Sick Headache, Bilioesness, Constipation or a Bad Stomach

—Put aside—just once—the Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or purgative waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Bilioesness, coated tongue, indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

Miss Lula McKenzie

Are you counting the days that are left for this special offer?

There are just three of them—Thursday, Friday and Saturday. They are the days that every minute of your time should be spent in subscription gathering. Let nothing but the contest enter your mind from now until Saturday night. A Fourteen Hundred Dollar E-M-F 30 is at stake, and if you let anything interfere with your progress during the next three days, YOU, YOURSELF, are jeopardizing the chances that your friends have given you to win.

Right now is the time that you've got to make a solemn promise to yourself and friends who have stood by you during this hard fought battle for votes. You've got to promise to do your best during the next seven days. That means you've got to do your best right up until 9 o'clock Saturday night, March 16th.

This is the time when your friends will become just as enthusiastic as you are if you only show them that YOU ARE GOING TO WIN. That's it, and nothing else. You've got to show them that you are going to win. Instill that much confidence in your friends and watch them fight for you. They'll put up the battle of their lives, just as though they were in the contest themselves. They'll ask you for a receipt book and they'll get the subscriptions. But you must make these friends feel that you are sincere. The contest editor knows you're sincere, because he sees something of you every day or two. Visit your friends just as frequently, and when ever you see them don't give them a chance sideways to talk anything but that big E-M-F car you are after.

Can you picture the other side of the story? Can you picture the disgust of your friends if you allow some one else to appear more enthusiastic than you? Can you imagine the disappointment when they meet you if you fail to talk of the success you are surely going to meet with? That's why they stop and talk to you. They want to hear from your own lips how you are getting along, and if you fail to interest them by talking on some other subject a thousand miles away from the contest, you can put it in your notebook that their opinion as to your chance of winning is pretty flimsy, and right there you've lost a supporter—one who perhaps would handle a receipt book for you.

Your friends are interested in your campaign now, and you are the one whom the contest editor gives credit for keeping them interested. It's up to you to keep them that way. The contest editor can't do it—they're your friends and not his.

This is a little advice, if taken, will mean votes for you. Bring your subscriptions in early and often, and GET THE VOTES.

Mc DANNALD FINISHES HIS JOURNEY TO KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 20, 1912.
Now that you and I both have had a much needed rest, I will, with your permission, renew the journey. Over on the Rio Grande are some good farm lands, the first we have seen since starting up the Cajon Pass. The farm buildings, however, are generally of a very low grade. They are only one story, and built of adobe.

Albuquerque is a hustling city of about 20,000, and is still growing, regardless of the name. The Santa Fe depot at Albuquerque is a model of architectural beauty. It has more domes, gables, conings and facades than the Hotel Coronado, and as nearly as I remember, covers about as much ground. Fred Harvey occupies the greater portion of the building as one of his noted feed stalls. He also has an extensive curio collection, where the world-famous Navajo blankets are not only sold, but made.

The Navajos are the most skilled of any Indian tribe in America. Their beautiful hand decorated pottery and woven willow ware tempt many a tourist to part with his small change. One rather good looking dame—I think she told me she was the chief's daughter—offered me her entire stock, including the "good will," for a dollar, and all that kept the deal from going through was that my companion, Jasper, refused to loan me the dollar.

One can tell dead easy that Raton is the "roof of the continent" by the way the big engine pants for breath after making the long climb. The altitude at this point is something over 7000 feet.

We pass Trinidad at 4:30 Saturday morning, about 30 minutes too late to see the cowboys shoot out the last lights. The guide told me this was the home of the professional "hold-up" man. He showed me a hole in the side of the car, close to one of its vital organs, where a hold-up, would-be robber man, not many trips ago, had playfully placed a puncture mark. It is still an oozing sore.

Trinidad is also famous for its splendid coal fields. Not long hence we drop down into the Arkansas river valley and evidences of the civilized man are good to look at. At La Junta the Santa Fe has extensive machine shops, and employs a large army of men. The Arkansas river gave me a great shock of disappointment, for I expected to see a broad, winding stream, with steam boats scudding up its ample channel. It reminded me very seriously of our own misnamed river—the gentle Santa Ana. There is just about enough water running down the Arkansas now to float a tadpole, and not quite enough to make good wading for a bullfrog.

Something over forty years ago, I experienced a snow-storm far up toward the source of the Arkansas. The storm broke on the morn of the 5th of May and lasted three days, the snow falling to a depth of nearly three feet on the level. The morning of the 8th, the sun came out warm and clear, and within a week the last semblance of this record storm was gone, and the little mountain daisies stuck their tiny heads out, as if in defiance of the storm.

war American citizens, with an unsatisfied longing for California in general, and Orange county in particular.

Between Trinidad and La Junta I noticed at regular intervals a large, straight furrow, extending as far as I could see. These are the "agreed" boundary lines between the cattle barons' ranges.

We stop a few minutes at Holly, long enough to see if there is a hot box, or one that is liable to get hot. Holly is the last wet town for many, many miles.

We swing along close to the rim of the Arkansas river at a 50-mile clip, and just hesitate a moment at Dodge City, at one time considered the rudest town on the map. I guess there is no doubt but Dodge City, Kansas, has housed and fed more gun-play men and murderers than any city in the world. Its history has been written in human gore; but that is all of the past. The town now wears undisputed marks of civilization, a two-story brick school house and a number of church spires.

We draw rein at Syracuse at 8:30, a neat little "no wet" town of about 2000. Just what excuse there was to offer for building a town here, I was unable to learn, for Jasper was not out of his couch yet. I stepped out on the platform with the avowed intention of walking the length of the long train, but the chill winds whistled through my auburn tresses, and set my warm California blood in such rebellion that I hastened back to the welcome radiator. We make the first change in time at Flagstaff, Arizona, and the next at Dodge City. It seems funny. When I look at my watch now, it's 10 o'clock, and time to go to bed, and at practically the same instant you are just starting to the play.

At Los Animas the American Beet Sugar Company has a factory. From the car window it looks like a small affair, just a toy compared with the huge structures in Orange county. There are five factories within a small radius of this place, but only two of them performed last year.

Along the Arkansas river bottom are to be seen hundreds of stacks of alfalfa hay and thousands of white-faced steers awaiting an invitation to be turned in. I noticed a remarkable scarcity of good farm buildings, and a few fruit trees. Trees of all kinds look stunted and gnarled. I presume the bleak wintry winds howling dismally through their leafless branches have caused them to shudder at the thought of old age in such a climate, and thus have they decided on an early demise.

We pass through Hutchinson at 2:45 and Emporia at 6:30. At one small town, I think it was Halstead, they were having a public jubilee, and as our train flew by, the entire populace gave us a rousing cheer amid the waving of hats and handkerchiefs.

The lights of Topeka greet us at precisely 8:10, but darkness and the Santa Fe schedule prevent us from even a distant view of the state buildings. Topeka has a population of 45,000, of which 44,900 are stal-

war American citizens, with an unsatisfied longing for California in general, and Orange county in particular.

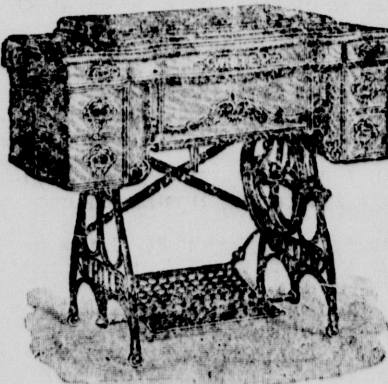

As the great overland train pulls into the Kansas City depot my watch ticks off the hour of 10, and we have made the long run without having lost a second of precious time. As soon as I can catch my breath, I will tell you all I really know about this great "gateway to the West." Until then, Hello!

D. W. McDANNALD.

TAFT'S STEAM ROLLER

That the strength of the Taft campaign for renomination will be Federal patronage, especially in the South, has been made plain, according to rumors current at the capitol, according to press reports. The resignation of Representative McKinley as chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee and the appointment in his stead of Representative Burke of South Dakota has not lessened the menace of the "Steam Roller" in the eyes of many members of congress. It is stated that pressure has been brought to bear in several southern states to hold up appointments in congressional districts, where there seems a likelihood of Progressive sentiment being felt to any marked degree.

Representative Burke is known to be a strong Taft man and it is openly stated by one or two Progressive Congressmen that the change in the Chairmanship of the Congressional Committee would in no degree lessen the part the Committee will play in the nomination campaign.

The congressional committee has the option of furnishing funds and speakers in Congressional districts where the heat of the campaign demands them. The withdrawal of such supports would in many cases mean a great deal to members of congress working for re-election.

With Penrose, Smoot and Crane, stand-pat leaders pre-eminent, actively engaged in furthering the campaign of President Taft, and with "Uncle Joe" Cannon and his protege, William B. McKinley, chiefly famous for his reactionary affiliations, openly directing the campaign from the Taft headquarters, several congressmen have expressed fear of the "steam roller."

The campaign slogan will be: "Taft is growing daily; the people will forget; the opposition is rapidly dying out."

STATE FIRE DAY

A movement is on foot for the establishment of a permanent "fire day" or clean-up day, throughout California, for April 18, the anniversary day of the big San Francisco fire. The idea is to have the State set aside this one day to be celebrated in all cities and smaller communities as a day for the cities to look after the cleaning up of alleys, tearing out of undesirable rubbish and other features and for a systematic organization of the anti-fire movement. It is stated that over $200,000,000 worth of valuable timber is destroyed annually by fire. It is hard to estimate the total loss in cities from fires, hundreds of which start from causes that might be eliminated by such days as clean-up or fire days. A day of that sort could be placed under the supervision of the fire department in the different cities. The chief could publish a list of things that a city might accomplish that would be of benefit from a fire prevention standpoint. The total benefit to the State as a whole from such a day would be hard to estimate. Every community having a dozen or more possible fire causes removed would mean that there would be thousands of them in the State as a whole. It would reduce the general fire risk just that much and would undoubtedly be responsible for the cutting out of a large number of fires.—Oxnard Courier.

WHY THE FARMER WAS INCLUDED

(Eighth and Concluding Article)

Contributed by the Industrial Accident Board

As much has been said in explanation of "Why the Farmer Was Included" by the Roseberry liability law as the issue seems to require, without trespassing unduly upon the good nature of newspaper editors who have found space for these articles in their columns. It now remains only to ask the farmers of California what, if they do not wish to be included within the provisions of that law, they will ask the legislature to do on their behalf?

Will they ask to have the old common-law doctrine of "assumption of risk" re-established as to them? Will they ask that those upon whose labor they expect to make their crop shall assume all the hazards of the industry and themselves none? With as good grace might the cotton planters of the South ask that their black brothers be returned to chattel slavery. Not a civilized nation in Europe retains the old doctrine, not a jurist of note will undertake to defend it, not a great corporation in this country, even though it be now resisting laws for the protection of women and children who work, is asking that this defense be preserved for its advantage. To ask that that old doctrine be re-established in this state is to ask that the wheels of progress be turned backward, and when were the farmers of any state accused of being reactionaries?

Will the farmers of California ask the next legislature to re-establish the fellow-servant doctrine as to them? Will they demand that if a driver of one of their teams carelessly permits it to run away and run down and run over a farm hand working for a neighbor they shall be held liable in damages, as they always have been, but not so if the team run down and run over one of their own farm hands? Will they require that whoever enters their employ thereby forfeits all right to such protection as the law has always required on behalf of every one not in their employ? Are they willing to compensate strangers for all injuries sustained at the hands of their employees, but not their friends and faithful fellow workers? For, be it understood, the Roseberry law only accords those who work for another the same protection that the law has ever thrown around those who do not so work. Will the farmers of California demand that a different and less just and humane rule of law apply to those who enter their service than to those who do not?

Will the farmers of California ask the next legislature to expunge from the law the existing modification in relation to "contributory negligence"? Will they ask that, however gross their own negligence may have been in the matter, and however slight that of their injured employee, nevertheless the employee, injured through such gross negligence, shall be barred from making any claim for damages? Are we to be made to understand that the sense of interest has so blinded the farmers of California that they no longer possess a sense of justice where their own obligations are involved?

These, in plain terms, are exactly what will be involved in any demand made by the farmers of California to have their class excepted from the provisions of the Roseberry Liability and Compensation Law. Thirty nations and twenty-two states of the American Union have turned their backs upon the old unjust and indefensible defenses as barbarous and immoral and no longer fit to survive. No legislature or parliament ever had the hardihood to enact them in the first place, and it may be doubted if any legislature will ever have the hardihood to re-enact them once they have been effaced from the statute books of any state.

These defenses were in their origin, the product of an unsympathetic, cloistered, judicial reasoning in stupid obliviousness of the common facts of every-day life, and were promulgated and given the force of law at a time in the world's history when those who toil for a livelihood possessed few rights that any employer of labor was bound to respect. Those old common-law defenses were contemporaneous with the unrelieved application of the doctrine of "master and servant," with all the arrogation and subordination of status which those terms imply, and they ill befitted an era in which employer and employee assume contractual relations of equal dignity and equality before the law.

The Supreme court of the United States, no longer ago than the 15th of January, 1912, in cases involving the national liability law of 1908, effectually disposed of the old, common law defenses so far as the constitutionality of laws abrogating them is concerned. This is the highest authority in the land and it held unequivocally that no rights vested under these common law doctrines that congress and legislatures may not take away by statute, and that decision will prove the death knell of those defenses. The whole country over, the sentence of death will speedily be carried out.

It cannot be that the farmers of California shall, with eyes open and in full consciousness of the purpose of what they ask, make any such demands of the legislature of this state. On the contrary, we have the faith to believe that if the truth of the matter can be taken to them in comprehensible form they will accept the law in good faith and join forces with the Industrial Accident Board, and other friends to the measure, in devising and putting into operation such legislation relating as accessibility as fire insurance or life, and at rates of premium no greater than such insurance is reasonably worth. To hold to any other view is to doubt man's growing humanity to man and the patriotic disinterestedness of that body of the American nation upon which we have been taught to look as constituting the dependable substance of the nation's life.

A LINEN SHOWER

Prospective Bride and Groom Were Honor Guests at Delightful Affair

Last evening the young people of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, gave Rev. C. R. Grey of Oklahoma and his bride-to-be, Miss Matie Tedford of Santa Ana, a linen shower at the home of Rev. A. F. Stem, 711 North Broadway. The rooms were artistically decorated with smilax, call lilies and hearts. Several exciting Valentine games were played. Then an excellently rendered program was enjoyed, including two selections by the Barac quartette; vocal solos by Mr. Jim Nuckolls and Miss Cora Seifert; a piano solo by Miss Carolyn Haughton; readings by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McDannald, Thomas Haughton, Roy Elliott and Mrs. Richard Dabbs. Delicious refreshments of cake and chocolate were served by Misses Berntha Stem, Wilma Youngman and Vera Brooks. After which Mr. B. F. Beswick made address to the guests, to which Rev. C. R. Grey heartily responded. The gifts were next brought forward and opened by Miss Matie Tedford. They consisted of beautiful articles of linen bestowed by loving friends. All present then formed a circle and sang "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," and this most delightful evening closed with prayer by Rev. A. F. Stem.

Cast of Queen Esther

"Queen Esther" is being assiduously rehearsed by the efficient cast which is to produce the cantata under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Christian church. There will be two productions of this interesting cantata which is a musical dramatization of the story of beautiful Queen Esther's heroic and successful endeavor to save her people, the Jews, from extermination under an order obtained by the wicked Haman from the Persian King Ahasuerus. Both productions will be at the Grand Opera House, Friday and Saturday nights, March 1 and 2.

The cast follows:

Esther, the Queen.....Mrs. Babbitt Ahasuerus, the King.....Mr. Clifford Johnson Haman, the King's counselor.....Mr. Phillips Mordecai, a Jew.....Mr. Miles Zereen, Haman's wife.....Miss La Rue Phillips Mordecai's sister.....Mrs. Coleman Propheeta.....Miss Witt A Median Princess.....Mrs. Allen A Persian Princess.....Miss Ray Knight Scribe.....Mr. Chapman Bergar, Hegai, High Priest.....Mr. Frank Scholes Herald.....Mr. Bruce Scholes Harbonah.....Mr. Walter Gulley

Please bear in mind that we persuaded the manager of the Paris Operatic Concert Company to give Santa Ana greatly reduced prices for the concert of Monday, March 4th. We believed it a concert everyone should hear and felt it would be better for both the public and management to have a full house at smaller prices than a small house at big ones. So do not miss this splendid opportunity to hear some very fine singers in roles selected from the most beautiful operas. Phone Main 214.

DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION

Rev. and Mrs. O. S. Russell at Home to Members of the Church and Congregation

An informal reception to the members of the First Baptist church and congregation was given yesterday afternoon and evening by the pastor of the church, Rev. O. S. Russell, and his wife. The home of the Russells on French street was lavishly and artistically decorated with the delicate graceful bloom of the acacia, smilax and yellow fresasias, the golden tints of the flowers giving the tone of the color scheme.

In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Russell were assisted in receiving by the wives of the deacons, Mesdames W. W. Crosier, Carey R. Smith, H. E. Smith, Z. B. West, S. H. C. Rittner of Santa Ana, and Mrs. J. L. Marchant of Tustin and Mrs. A. L. Havens of Orange. In the evening the ladies receiving with the pastor and Mrs. Russell were Mesdames W. E. Winslow, C. E. French, O. S. Cantland, Fruit much and waters were served, Mesdames H. H. Reeves and H. G. Hull presiding at the table in the afternoon and Misses Lulu Minter and Helen Austin in the evening. Music was rendered at both occasions, Mrs. M. Phillips, Mesdames Mame Havens and Lulu Minter singing in the afternoon, while Messrs. Hickox and Benjamin, accompanied by Percy K. Lusk, were the singers in the evening. Miss Stockslager and Miss Minter were the afternoon accompanists.

The guests, probably reaching the number of two hundred, were delighted to have this opportunity of paying their respects to Rev. and Mrs. Russell, who have won the hearts of their people since coming among them. Mrs. Russell was a most gracious hostess, and Rev. Mr. Russell's genial ways made everyone feel at home. The callers who came and went during the receptions were glad to meet more closely Mrs. and Miss Belle, mother and sister of Mrs. Russell, who are spending the winter in Southern California, dividing their time between their daughter's home in Santa Ana, and with relatives in Los Angeles.

A SOCIAL AFTERNOON

Northwest Embroidery Club Discussed Everything From Babies to Politics

The Northwest Embroidery Club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Leiser on North Baker street. Making baby garments and fancy articles, discussing politics, poly high school bonds, infantile diseases, and home cooking was the order of the day. At the close of the afternoon the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Pierson, served delectable refreshments. The latter lady will soon be lost to the club as the Parsons have sold their home place and will soon leave the neighborhood, to the regret of their neighbors. A man from Petaluma has bought their ranch and will go into chicken raising on an extensive scale. These embroidery clubs might well be called getting-acquainted clubs, as that is their object, and it is a good one, too, for it brings the neighbors together, giving the newcomers an opportunity to meet others and get really acquainted. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Kerby, West Seventeenth street, on the second Tuesday of March.

SPLENDID MEETING

W. C. T. U. Had Symposium on "Character Building" at Mothers' Meeting

The Santa Ana Woman's Christian Temperance Union held one of the most interesting and helpful meetings of the year yesterday afternoon at the beautiful new home of Mrs. F. H. McKire, 606 Ross street. The attractive rooms were well filled with members and friends to listen to the splendid program arranged by Mrs. McKire and Mrs. Geo. Post, and all who availed themselves of the opportunity of attending this meeting were well repaid.

Mrs. Groff opened yesterday's meeting with a devotional service, after which a short business session was led by the president. It was announced that the next meeting is to be the annual meeting. The superintendents of all the different departments were requested to have their reports ready to be either brought to the meeting or sent to Mrs. J. T. Raitt, corresponding secretary. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Stevenson, 1016 Broadway.

The subject for yesterday afternoon was "Co-operation with our Teachers." Mrs. McKire chose "Character Building" as the phase of topic to be considered. She opened the program with some preliminary remarks. Then followed what might be a symposium on "Character Building." "The Architect," dealing with the planning and preparing of the child's character.

Mrs. J. N. Anderson's subject was the "Contractor and Decorator." She dealt with the moral and spiritual development of the child's character. This was a broad subject and Mrs. Anderson certainly handled it in so capable a manner that it is to be regretted that some parts of the address cannot be given for the benefit of the public.

Following this and on the same subject Mrs. C. W. Burns read an article, "The Furnishings." Her subject treated of the health and diet of the child as essential things in the child's life.

Prof. Oranston gave one of his usual good talks on "The Finishing," one of the most important factors in the child's character building. He spoke on different phases of the subject relating to the character that has been formed by the time the child leaves the grades or the High School and enters life's school or higher education.

Mrs. Raitt and Mrs. Williams made short talks on "Remodeling." A pleasing variation at this point of the program was the "Bobolink" song given by three little girls, Margaret McKire, Violet and Elberta Post.

Another musical number was by Mrs. Willela Clevenger, who gave a charming piano solo. The last paper of the program was given by Mrs. Lillian Whitney, principal of Washington school. This most excellent paper brought forth much applause and was thought to be worth while to pass on to others and after earnest solicitations on the part of the members present, Mrs. Whitney kindly consented to give it to the public.

The Stork Man's Plan

The Stork man is in town and is "just crazy" to do something for the dimpled babies to which he is fond father, and as evidence of this he has been busy with some of the show windows, making pretty little scenes to show what he is going to do for the babies. Against a background of sword ferns and other fern plants is a mossy bank of moss on which are seated cunning doll babies in cute attitudes, while hovering benevolently over all is Daddy Stork with a Stork bank book in his majestic bill. Scattered about are "greenbacks" or stork scrip, which is just as good as real money if you get it in the right way. And now comes the plan. Read the names below and how it is all done: Bishop's Dry Goods Store, Rowley Drug Co., Hill, Carden & Co., Horton Spurgeon Furniture Co., Trickey & Newman Grocery.

The Stork System of Savings has been adopted by the above stores and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, any parent bringing to the stork man at Hill, Carden & Co.'s store, the name and date of birth of the child for whom an account is to be started, will receive for the child a pass book showing one dollar deposited to its credit in the California National Bank of Santa Ana and will also receive a beautiful nickel saving bank and order for a free sitting of the baby at Munnell's studio. This dollar deposited thus by the merchants is to encourage the accumulation of a fund for the child's education, and to stimulate such a savings. The parents, relatives or friends of a baby trading at any of the Stork Stores, by asking for it will receive a percentage of their cash purchase in stork scrip. Whenever a dollar of the scrip is saved up it can be taken to the bank and deposited to the credit of the child's stork account for its face value, the same as cash. The account may be added to outside of the scrip like any other account and accumulated the regular rate of interest allowed by the bank. All funds deposited to the child's stork account thus belongs absolutely to the child and cannot be withdrawn by its parents or legal guardian except in case of death or removal from the city. The merits of such a system as this cannot be overestimated, bringing to the boy or girl at one of the most critical times in life a sum of money sufficient to insure its education and giving it that feeling of independence so necessary to a successful career.

RETAINED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Williams and Rutan to Aid in Effort to Make the School Bonds Good

A large share of last night's meeting of the Santa Ana board of education was taken up with a discussion of the situation in regard to the school bonds. Attorneys Williams & Rutan were retained by the school board to assist in whatever legal proceedings may be found necessary to test the validity of the bonds, and if possible secure the acceptance of the bonds by the buyers, whose attorneys so far have rejected the bonds.

W. L. Duggan, president of the board, was of the opinion that the bonds would eventually be declared valid. He said that Attorney Williams was very doubtful of the outcome. It was stated that the cost of taking the matter to the appellate court, a judgment in which would be satisfactory to the bond attorneys, would probably be $200 outside of attorney's fees. The school board concluded that it was advisable to go to the necessary expenditure in an effort to prove the bonds good and sufficient.

The school board will have another meeting next Tuesday evening for the purpose of a conference with Attorney Williams and City Attorney Heathman. In the meantime the attorneys are to decide what steps ought to be taken.

Other Matters
The school board elected Mrs. Nina Stoddard Morrill as teacher of the seventh grade of Washington school, to take the place of Mr. Davis, resigned.

Director H. G. Dean was appointed as a committee to have charge of placing retaining walls along Sycamore street at the Washington school.

On order was given for cutting back the umbrella trees in the parking of the high school.

As Many a Santa Ana Reader Knows Too Well

When the kidneys are sick, Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only.

Santa Ana people testify. L. J. Parsons, 402 W. Fourth St., Santa Ana, Calif., says: "Several years have passed since I first publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and now, as I did at that time, I claim that they are the best kidney medicine on the market. I have used them off and on as occasion has required and have never failed to get relief. Some time ago the kidney secretions became too frequent in passage and caused me annoyance. I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Dean's Drug Store, and the contents of one box greatly strengthened my kidneys."

BOND LAWYERS FIGHTING SHY

Have No Faith, But They Will Take An Appellate Court Decision for It

Attorney R. Y. Williams in his conference yesterday with Attorneys O. Melveny, Stevens & Milliken of Los Angeles, attorneys for the successful bidders for the Santa Ana school bonds, found that the attorneys are very strong in their opinion that the bonds are beyond redemption, but even at that they agree to accept the bonds if the appellate court finds them valid.

The attorneys talked over the various points at issue, and the final result of the conference was that there is a satisfactory way to settle the legality of the issue, and that is by mandamus suit. The Los Angeles attorneys said that an appellate court decision would be satisfactory to them. They would not require a supreme court decision.

The method by which the matter can be brought into court is for the school district to have the bonds printed, which will cost between $200 and $300, then bring a mandamus suit against T. B. Talbert as chairman of the Board of Supervisors, seeking to compel him to sign the bonds. In that way the case could be gotten into court.

The Los Angeles attorneys insisted that in their opinion the wording of the resolution and the notice of sale as concerning either issue is fatally defective. In their opinion the $250,000 grammar school bonds are in worse condition than the $200,000 polytechnic high school bonds. The reason this is true is that there appears the words: "For apparatus, for school grounds." The comma was left out, and the bond attorneys say that the wording means that the money could be used for the purchase of apparatus for school grounds, which might mean Fresno sawmills or steam rollers.

Attorney Williams is of the opinion that there is a chance that the courts will hold the bonds to be valid, and in face of the general opinion that other bonds could be voted at this time it may be his advice to go ahead with the test case.

SHALL COUNTY GET CHARTER?

This is the Question to be Discussed at Orange at Meeting Tonight

Shall Orange county proceed to get a county government charter? This is the principal question up for discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Orange tonight.

The question is propounded by some of the delegates from the north end of the county. The matter has never come before the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce in any way, and the local representatives, W. A. Zimmerman and R. J. Paine, know nothing more about the matter than that it has been announced that the meeting will discuss a county government charter.

A number of members of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce will attend the meeting.

Be sure to see Queen Esther.

Seeing the Bright Side
There are compensations for living in New Jersey, even where the mosquitoes hang like clouds over the residents. At least, this is the mental attitude of a six-year-old boy, whose home is in Montclair. His brother of nine was born in New York city, but he was a Montclair baby. One day he was being teased about being a "Jersey country bumpkin."

The youngster's eyes were flooded with tears for a moment and then his face brightened and he smiled.

"I like New Jersey better," said he, proudly.

"Why?" queried the teaser.

"Because I can have turtles as pets in New Jersey?" If I lived in New York they would be taken away from me."

The teaser soon learned that it was against the New York law to keep turtles in captivity, but in New Jersey it was not. The boy was very fond of his turtles, of which he had three, and they were his consolation for being a "Jersey country bumpkin."

BREAKS UP A COLD IN SEVERAL HOURS

An Effective Way to Cure a Bad Cold and End Grippe Misery

—There is not one grain of quinine in Pape's Cold Compound, which, when taken every two hours, until three consecutive doses are taken, will surely end the grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs. It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal affections, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world which will cure your cold or end grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

BUILD UP A NEW WORD

Science Responsible for More Built-Up Words Than Classic English Ever Dreamed Of

"Esophagoscopia" is one of the newest words which the scientist of necessity has coined. As science has progressed in its many lines, it has been responsible for more "built-up" terms than classic English could have dreamed of.

Take this new word, "esophagoscopia." It is a combination of the noun "esophagus," meaning the channel through which the food from the mouth reaches the stomach, while the last two syllables are made of "scope"—as used in telescope, microscope, spectroscopy. Thus the combination suggests a way and means for allowing the surgeon to look down the esophagus in search of foreign obstructions or of injuries to the organ.

One of the leading physicians of St. Paul has been gathering statistics showing the enormous number and variety of foreign substances that are swallowed by persons of all ages and which often result fatally. He says that in almost any case of the kind a pin, needle, button, bone and even teeth plates are swallowed and in the beginning may be little more than an unpleasantness. Here is the opportunity for using the esophagoscope. Before the sharp substance has a chance to perforate the esophagus the combined mirror and electric light may be inserted, the object seen and removed without harm. If the obstruction be felt, however, it starts irritation, becomes a festering wound which almost invariably will cause death.

West Coast Crabs
In California many food products grow much larger than they do elsewhere. The rule applies to crabs. On the Pacific coast these creatures are ordinarily four times the size of the Chesapeake bay crab. One west coast crab will make salad sufficient for six people.

LABORATORY FOR STUDY OF OCEAN

Miss Ellen B. and E. W. Scripps Establish Institute for Biological Research

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 21.—To study what life and living beings are, and how the processes of life go on—this is the object of the Scripps Institution for Biological Research, at San Diego, which is about to be made a part of the University of California.

Through the aid of Miss Ellen B. Scripps and Mr. E. W. Scripps, the Scripps Institution for Biological Research has been built up until now it is recognized as one of the most significant and promising research institutions in America. The city of San Diego some years ago provided as a site 170 acres of pueblo lands at La Jolla, with half a mile of ocean frontage. Here, through the support of the founders, was erected a fireproof concrete laboratory, containing twelve research rooms for scientific investigators, an aquarium, a library, a combined lecture room and general laboratory, apparatus rooms, etc.

There was provided also the two-masted schooner Alexander Agassiz, a 70-foot boat—18-foot beam—with auxiliary gasoline engines of a capacity of 70 horse-power. The Agassiz is fitted out with the standard equipment of the International Commission for Investigation of the Sea, including apparatus for sounding, for dredging to a depth of 6000 feet, for trawling, for hydraulic work, and for plankton work—or the study of minute floating life in the sea. The boat is thoroughly seaworthy and available for collecting expeditions not only along the California shores but for long deep-sea voyages as well.

Arrangements have now been made for the transfer of the Scripps Institution for Biological Research, including all its properties and all its activities, to the university. Through the generosity of the founders approximately $10,000 annual income is available for the work of the station. Control, heretofore in the hands of the San Diego Marine Biological Association, will be delegated by the university to Miss Ellen B. Scripps, Mr. E. W. Scripps, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, and Dr. William E. Ritter, professor of zoology in the university and director of the Scripps Institution. There is a permanent scientific staff, and visiting scientists come from many other universities to carry on research at the station.

The rich variety of ocean life, both plant and animal, make the San Diego region an ideal place for research. Director Ritter feels that the investigations of biological science have profound significance for all men. Among some of the current generalizations of science which he points out as affecting human life and thought are the recognition that all living creatures, including human beings, are subject in all aspects of their natures to the principles of evolution; that the scientific doctrine of the struggle for life has been found to be far less widespread in its application than had until recently been thought, and that mutual helpfulness and a community life exist widely in nature, and set an example before human society; that law and order reign in the organic world; that all living beings have, in nearly all their parts and functions, capacities far beyond those needed for ordinary life; that living beings must be understood from the point of view of the organism as a whole, and so that man as a whole must be regarded and not merely individual aspects of man; that laws of heredity prevail throughout nature, laws of suggestion as to human inheritance and men's obligation to their offspring; and that apparently all the phenomena of living beings, including the highest aspects of human nature, seem to be correlated with chemico-physical phenomena.

To disseminate knowledge of the discoveries of science as well as to discover new truth will be an object of the Scripps Institution.

Man Who Promoted Mule-foot
Hog Association Named
In Suit Here

The Plaintiff and the Woman Who Had the Notes Are Not Known Locally

J. C. Yancey, promoter of a mule-foot hog association, is defendant in a suit brought in the superior court here. Concerning this suit little is known, as the plaintiff concerned is a stranger in Santa Ana. The plaintiff in the action is F. A. McCormick, represented by Attorneys Scarborough & Forgy. The suit is on three notes, each one given by Yancey to Minnie N. Taylor, of Santa Ana. One of the notes is for $1000, given on Jan. 22, 1910. The other was for $4000, given on March 25, 1910, and the third was for $15,000, falling due on Feb. 25, 1912. With interest and principal the judgment asked is $21,407.75. These notes have all been assigned by Minnie N. Taylor to F. A. McCormick. Yancey came into notice here about a year ago as the promoter of a mule-foot hog association. The plan was to sell a hog. The owner must leave the animal on the farm, and the profit would come from the sale of offsprings.

Yancey is still connected with the mule-foot hog business as a private enterprise, and considers the mule-foot hog as the best of hogs. County is Suing District Attorney West and Deputy Koepsel have brought suit in the name of the county against Emma M. Colgan, owner of ten acres at Tustin, to collect $332.59 expended by Horticultural Commissioner Bishop in fumigating the orange orchard on the place. The complaint sets forth that last August Bishop notified the owner that the trees were full of scale pests, and must be fumigated or sprayed. Nothing was done by the owner, and in October the commissioner went into the place with a county outfit and did the fumigating. The cost was $332.57. The complaint asks that the debt be a lien on the place.

Suing for Divorce
Susie Mara has brought suit for divorce against Richard Mara. Steele Finley is attorney for the plaintiff.

Copy of Articles
A copy of the articles of incorporation of the Anaheim Eucalyptus Water Co. was filed here today. The company owns property in the Golden State tract near Anaheim. It is capitalized for $24,000. The directors, all Los Angeles men, are Sol Davis, E. S. and Leon Kornfield, A. W. Allen and E. A. Beck.

Found Not Guilty
Martin Romero stood jury trial today on a charge of stealing a suit case from a Pacific Electric car, and was acquitted. S. M. Davis defended Romero. The suit case belonged to Mrs. Florence Roberts of Los Angeles. Romero put on a witness to show that he had a suit case when seen in Los Angeles that day. Romero said he took the only suit case that was left, supposing it was his.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT

JUDGMENT IN NYE'S FAVOR

Nearly All of the Items of the Heights Company's Bill
Are Knocked Out

Justice Cox has rendered judgment of $18.12 in favor of the plaintiff in the suit of the Arch Beach Heights Co. against Richard Nye, an automobile bus driver who last summer ran an auto line to Arch Beach and Laguna Beach. While the judgment is against Nye, he may be considered winner of the suit.

The heights company brought suit for $221. A number of items of this bill were rejected by the justice. Among them was an item of $10 per month for the rent of Roper's Book Store as a Santa Ana office, $2.50 for a sign and a sum for passengers carried by the beach heights company machine. When the suit was first brought, the company attached Nye's automobiles. This attachment was found to be illegal, and was released. Nye brought in a cross-complaint asking for $50 damages because of this attachment. His claim was allowed. A. J. Bradner of Los Angeles was attorney for the company and H. C. Head for the defendant.

Ninety Days in Jail
John Mercer, who thought he could not work without he had a revolver strapped to him, will have ninety days in which he will learn that he can work without having a weapon on his hip. Mercer was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon while at work on a ditch for Al. Comer. Though warned not to carry the gun, he persisted in doing so. He pleaded guilty before Justice Cox and was sent to jail for ninety days.

Got Off With Fine
Louis Chacon, the Talbert Mexican, who endeavored to compel Manuel Palma to continue to work for him for his board until Palma paid a debt of $25, pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and was fined $25. He did not have the money to make the payment and went to jail. Chacon is alleged to have pulled two revolvers on Palma.
